

GREEN SANCTURARY COMMITTEE CONGREGATIONAL UNITARIAN CHURCH

*FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
JANUARY 14, 2008*

Press Contact: Margaret Fox-Hawthorne
815 943-6828

GREEN FILM FESTIVAL PROVIDES SUPER BOWL ALTERNATIVE

WOODSTOCK—A Green Film Festival in Woodstock will provide an alternative to the Super Bowl for folks with little interest in football or who have other priorities. Films will be screened at the Stage Left Café, next to the Woodstock Opera House, on Sunday, January 27 from 1 to 10 p.m.

The festival is presented by the Green Sanctuary Committee of the Congregational Unitarian Church. The committee is the church's environmental ministry.

Films include the feature documentaries "Who Killed the Electric Car," Robert Kennedy Jr.'s "Who Owns Nature," and "The Real Dirt on Farmer John."

In addition a number of short films will be shown including "The Story of Stuff," "Owls," "Kilowatt Ours," "Integrated and Sustainable Home Building in a Midwestern Climate," "Future Mighty Oaks of McHenry County," and "The True Cost of Food."

There will be time for discussion of the films as well.

Admission to the Green Film Festival is free. Beverages and snacks will be available from the Stage Left Café.

For more information call the Congregational Unitarian Church at 815 338-0731, e-mail office@cucw.org or visit the web page at www.cucw.org.

GREEN FILM FESTIVAL SCHEDULE OF SCREENINGS

Stage Left Café

Next to Woodstock Opera House

1PM to 10 PM

Free Admission

1:15 - Who Killed the Electric Car

3 - 4:10 - Short films - The Story of Stuff

Owls

Kilowatt Ours

4:25 - Who Owns Nature

5:40 - 7 - Short films - Integrated & Sustainable Home Building for a Midwestern Climate

Future Mighty Oaks of McHenry County

The True Cost of Food

7:30 - The Real Dirt on Farmer John