Some UU congregations have done significant work on issues of racism, classism, and multiculturalism using resources provided by the UUA and others.

Leading Congregations into a Multiracial, Multicultural Future: now is the time! is an exceptional opportunity to reinvigorate your commitment, meet other UUs involved in this work, and learn practical and meaningful processes and activities to take back to your congregation. Congregational and district teams are especially encouraged as a way of responding more fully to conference offerings.
