

2013 Annual Report

Seven Principles

There are seven principles which Unitarian Universalist (UU) congregations affirm and promote:

- ◇ The inherent worth and dignity of every person;
- ◇ Justice, equity and compassion in human relations;
- ◇ Acceptance of one another and encouragement to spiritual growth in our congregations;
- ◇ A free and responsible search for truth and meaning;
- ◇ The right of conscience and the use of the democratic process within our congregations and in society at large;
- ◇ The goal of world community with peace, liberty, and justice for all;
- ◇ Respect for the interdependent web of all existence of which we are a part.

Unitarian Universalism draws from many sources:

- ◇ Direct experience of that transcending mystery and wonder, affirmed in all cultures, which moves us to a renewal of the spirit and an openness to the forces which create and uphold life;
- ◇ Words and deeds of prophetic women and men which challenge us to confront powers and structures of evil with justice, compassion, and the transforming power of love;
- ◇ Wisdom from the world's religions which inspires us in our ethical and spiritual life;
- ◇ Jewish and Christian teachings which call us to respond to God's love by loving our neighbors as ourselves;
- ◇ Humanist teachings which counsel us to heed the guidance of reason and the results of science, and warn us against idolatries of the mind and spirit;
- ◇ Spiritual teachings of earth-centered traditions which celebrate the sacred circle of life and instruct us to live in harmony with the rhythms of nature.

These principles and sources of faith are the backbone of our religious community.

A Letter from the President

Dear Friend,

I am delighted to present the annual report of the Unitarian Universalist Association (UUA) for fiscal year 2012-2013 (FY13). This year has been filled with adventures and challenges as your UUA works with congregations and communities to make Unitarian Universalism the voice of liberal progressive religion in our world.

Last summer, I led a chapel service in Boston for our UUA staff. I told the story of my first year in seminary, 17 years ago, when I began to get involved in social justice work through conferences in California, a training at UUA headquarters in Boston, and several presentations across the country. All of these were made possible by the invisible hands of UUA staff, working in Boston and in the field to support Unitarian Universalists wherever they are.

Now that I have the privilege to be the president of our UUA, much of my work is highly visible. I get to visit congregations, participate in social justice advocacy, and even be arrested while standing for our shared moral values. But the vast majority of the work that happens at the UUA is invisible. The people who work to create exciting religious education texts don't get to see the enthusiastic reaction a child has to their curriculum. Editors at Beacon Press or Skinner House don't get to see minds changed by their books. We often don't notice the quiet work that's done through the endowment to ensure the future success of congregations, the support for ministers during transitions, training, settlement, crises, and retirement. Our anti-racism, anti-oppression, and multicultural work is all done behind the scenes.

All of this work happens invisibly, and the people doing that work often don't see the results. The results are down the road and far away. And yet for love and justice to thrive, for our movement to thrive, for our values to have a strong place in this world, love needs a place to stand, love needs to be organized, compassion needs to be structured, and we're people who do that. Today and every day I want to celebrate the work that we do. This Annual Report is one way to do that, by lifting up some of the exciting work done by the UUA during July 2012-June 2013 and those individuals and congregations whose generosity supports that work.

As you read this report I hope you will appreciate, as I do, the incredible achievements the UUA has made this year. I want to extend my deepest gratitude to every one of you who helped make this work possible. You are allowing us to support one another and to move our association and our movement into their bright future – together!

In faith,

Support for Ministers and Congregations

Our congregations and ministers are at the heart of Unitarian Universalism. This year, we worked to meet the needs of local congregations and individual ministers, religious educators, musicians, and lay leaders.

Support for Ministers and Congregations

MINISTER CREDENTIALING

63 candidates came before the Ministerial Fellowship Committee over the past year. Approximately 525 people are currently at some stage of preparation for UU ministry. During FY13, 39 full-time ministers were settled in congregations. Thanks to donor support, ministers are credentialed, provided with benefits, and eligible for assistance during crises.

OUR WHOLE LIVES

This year we field tested an updated Our Whole Lives (OWL) sexuality education program for Grades 7-9. New topics include social media, bullying, consent education, and material on teaching OWL to youth with special needs. In May 2013, the Resource Development Office (RDO) ran workshops for approximately 30 new OWL trainers. The second edition will be published in 2014.

NEW CURRICULA

During the last year, the RDO created several new Tapestry of Faith lifespan curricula and resources online and in print. New programs for children include “World of Wonder” (K/1), “Signs of Our Faith” (2/3), and “Sing to the Power” (4/5). New programs for youth and young adults include “Building the World We Dream About;” Bridging: A Handbook for Congregations by Gail Forsyth-Vail and Jessica York, which offers guidance to as congregations implement a program to serve youth approaching majority; and “Building Beloved Community,” a five-session high school antiracism curriculum co-developed with the Youth and Young Adult Office.

LEARNING CIRCLES

The Office of Growth Strategies has been experimenting with “Innovative Learning Circles” for a little more than a year. The purpose is to gather our movement’s best, innovative leaders together to spark, inspire, and cross-pollinate each other. This experiment gathers together learning circles of a select number of religious professionals for monthly hour-and-a-half-long conversations over a period of nine months. The number and scope of Innovative Learning Circles will expand in the coming church year.

Act and Lead for Social Justice

The UUA provides a progressive religious voice on the national stage. We are uniquely poised to share our message of love and respect for all people, and to work for a more compassionate world community

Act and Lead for Social Justice

SOCIAL JUSTICE PRIORITIES

Fiscal Year 2013 Successes

During this fiscal year, our top priorities for social justice were environmental, immigration, LGBTQ, reproductive, and multicultural justice. We also worked to serve the world by working internationally to support UU congregations and grassroots mobilization around the globe.

MULTICULTURALISM

This year was our first Multicultural Leadership Institute, a collaborative learning initiative to engage leaders in building Beloved Community inclusive of multiple cultural identities, multigenerational, and justice-centered. The second annual Multicultural Leadership Institute will take place in November 2013.

ENVIRONMENTAL

This year we worked for environmental justice by sponsoring a public witness event and water communion during General Assembly and by advocating against hydrofracking and climate change. The Green Sanctuary program provides a framework for congregations to live out their commitment to the earth.

MARRIAGE EQUALITY

Held vigils outside the Supreme Court and submitted amicus curiae briefs in two marriage equality cases. Our decades-long work for marriage equality paid off when the Supreme Court took a bold and courageous step toward full equality!

REPRODUCTIVE

2013 marks the 50 year anniversary of the Unitarian Universalist Association's first statement on reproductive choice. We celebrated this anniversary and Mama's Day, and began organizing around the 2012 Congregational Study/Action Issue.

Act and Lead for Social Justice

UU COLLEGE OF SOCIAL JUSTICE

At GA 2012 we launched the UU College of Social Justice, a combined with the UU Service Committee. The mission for the UU College of Social Justice is to build the capacity of Unitarian Universalists to catalyze justice in community, through experiential learning grounded in UU theology, history, and contemplative practices.

Act and Lead for Social Justice

INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS

The UUA's International Office guides strategic international programs and opportunities for Unitarian Universalism. We work with faith partners around the world, with human rights partners in India, and with United Nations partners.

FAITH WITHOUT BORDERS

The International Office launched an international engagement program for congregations, a coalition between a number of international UU organizations that includes a collaborative website with tools and resources.

UU HOLDEEN INDIA PROGRAM

The UU Holdeen India Program has provided support to over 100 grassroots organizations in India as they demand their rights to dignity, peace, and security. Last year UUHIP led its first Service Learning trip to India with the UU College of Social Justice. Another such trip is planned for November 2013.

UU UNITED NATIONS OFFICE

The UU-UNO engages with the work of the United Nations and with Unitarian Universalists to achieve peace, security, and human rights for all. This year, the UU-UNO has advocated for international LGBTQ and women's rights, climate change awareness, migrant and indigenous peoples' rights, and an end to discrimination.

Financial Information

The financial statements of the UUA as of June 30, 2012 were audited by an independent certified accounting firm. These statements, and those from previous years, are available on UUA.org. The charts below represent some of the data for Annual Program Fund contribution and general UUA incomes and expenditures for Fiscal Year 2013. For more information, please email development@uua.org.

Annual Program Fund

Thank you to all of our congregations for your generous contributions, which make a difference in our religious community and strengthen our covenant.

Member congregations voluntarily join our Association of Congregations, covenanting with one another to affirm and promote our Unitarian Universalist principles and purposes in the wider world. As part of this relationship, congregations pledge financial support each year to the UUA's Annual Program Fund (APF).

APF contributions represent nearly 50% of our Association's undesignated funding, providing for numerous and varied services, programs, and resources to our member congregations, to foster the health and growth of Unitarian Universalism, and to give public voice to UU values and principles.

“At the heart of Unitarian Universalism is the faith that every person can make a meaningful difference in our communities and in the world. We have faith in generosity, a conviction that our shared gifts of love and labor can heal ourselves and others” — Rev. Terry Sweetser

Legacy Giving

We are deeply grateful to our 700 Legacy Society members, whose visionary generosity will nourish and strengthen Unitarian Universalism for generations.

We are honored to remember the generous Unitarian Universalists who have passed away this year. Their gifts of time, talent, and treasure have profoundly transformed their congregations and our movement.

Legacy Giving

Thornton and Sherry Smith

“We give generously so that Unitarian Universalism will continue to be a beacon for freedom of belief in ten, fifty, one hundred years.”

Sherry and Thornton Smith of Greenport, New York, have long been dedicated Unitarian Universalists, holding numerous leadership positions in their congregations (First Universalist Church in Southold and the UU Congregation at Shelter Rock in Manhasset, New York) as well as nationally, on the Unitarian Universalist Association’s President’s Council. Sherry also served for years on the board, and as the treasurer, of the Unitarian Universalist Service Committee. She was first introduced to Unitarianism in 1947, as a sophomore in Wellesley College, when she took a course in comparative religions, and Thornton soon followed when he proposed to Sherry in 1951. Her only condition was that they be married in a Unitarian Church.

Driven by a firm belief in Unitarian Universalism’s Fourth Principle, a free and responsible search for truth and meaning, the Smiths’ commitment to our movement has grown and thrived. They have travelled the world with the International Association for Religious Freedom and the UU Partner Church Council. They deeply value life-long learning – Sherry has led many adult education programs in their Greenport community – and have found that Unitarian Universalism provides the space in which we each can grapple with big ideas, engage our certain sense of something bigger than ourselves, and be enriched by the wisdom of all traditions.

In 2001, Sherry and Thornton made a generous bequest intention to benefit the UUA, preparing to leave a legacy that reflects their shared values as Unitarian Universalists. Through this gift, they will continue to nurture our movement and transform our world for generations to come.

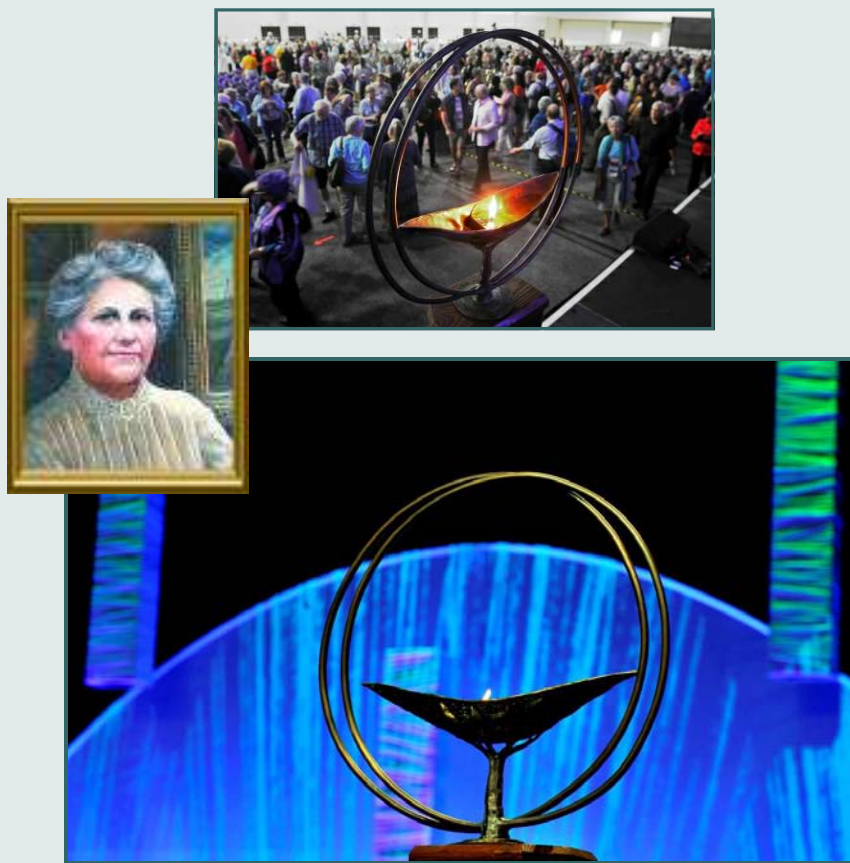

In Memoriam

Margaret Woodward

Margaret Woodward, longtime member of All Souls Church Unitarian in Washington, DC, passed away in July 2012 at the age of 102. Margaret was raised in DC, but lived in Amsterdam during the early years of World War II, working as one of the first American female radio journalists for NBC. After being forced to flee the Netherlands in 1940, she spent years working for the Foreign Service and the State Department prior to her retirement in 1960. Returning to DC, Margaret also returned to her Unitarian roots, began to tutor children at All Souls, and dedicated herself to her congregation and its work for love and justice. In 1991, Margaret committed to including both her beloved All Souls and the Unitarian Universalist Association in her will. Now, and in the years to come, Margaret's profoundly generous legacy gift will help to ensure that Unitarian Universalism will continue to grow and thrive, locally and internationally, and to bring a just global community into being.

UU Veatch Program at Shelter Rock

The UU Veatch Program at Shelter Rock supports organizations that put Unitarian Universalist principles into practice. It draws upon a generous bequest from Caroline Veatch and funds Unitarian Universalist and community organizations working on a variety of issues across the country.

Funding provided by the UU Veatch Program at Shelter Rock is essential for the UUA to tackle the greatest challenges of our time—allowing us to create and promote resources, support congregations, and be the public voice of our shared principles. Our deepest gratitude goes to the UU Veatch Program at Shelter Rock for all their generous support!

MATCHING GIFT CHALLENGE

This year, the UU Veatch Program at Shelter Rock and members of the President's Council issued a challenge to our donors: both groups would match every dollar donated between January and June, 2013. Thanks to their dedication—and your generosity—we were able to raise a grand total of $300,000 to support our congregations and to promote Unitarian Universalist principles in the world.

President's Council

The UUA President's Council was established in 1992 to provide the President of the UUA with suggestions and feedback on stewardship of our Association and the movement, to provide counsel and leadership for Association resource development efforts, and to help increase support of the UUA and its programs through advocacy with individuals and congregations. We are very grateful for the Council's time, dedication, and support for the Association!
