

Congregational Giving

Congregational Gifts of Generosity

Member congregations voluntarily join our Association of Congregations, covenanting with one another to affirm and promote our Unitarian Universalist principles and purposes in the wider world. As part of this covenantal relationship, congregations pledge financial support each year to the Annual Program Fund (APF). In fiscal year 2006-2007, congregations contributed over $6.7 million, 5.5% more than in the preceding fiscal year. The APF contributions represent nearly 50% of our Association's undesignated funding, providing for numerous and varied services, programs, and resources to our member congregations, to foster the health and growth of Unitarian Universalism, and to give public voice to UU values and principles. For more information about the Annual Program Fund, visit: www.uua.org/giving.

HONOR CONGREGATIONS

These congregations gave the requested minimum contribution ("Fair Share") to our Association, reflecting their commitment and support of the larger movement as a priority in their annual budget.

MERIT CONGREGATIONS

These congregations contributed at least 20% more than in the previous fiscal year to our Association. These congregations are recognized and appreciated for their dedicated efforts to increase their giving levels toward full fair share.

LEADERSHIP CONGREGATIONS

The following congregations represent the 50 largest contributors to our Association, with 2006-2007 contributions ranging from $69,801 to $20,533 respectively. Through their impressive generosity, our Leadership Congregations demonstrate their deep awareness of the importance of stewardship, their commitment to Unitarian Universalism, and to the mission of our Association.

ANNUAL PROGRAM FUND COMMITTEE

Generosity of Time

This dedicated group of volunteers works closely with our Association's staff to plan and implement stewardship efforts in their districts. They help bring information about Association programs, services and resources to congregations and encourage generous financial support. The time and service given by these volunteers is greatly appreciated.

A Showroom for Spirituality

Our Congregation in Greater Canton, Ohio

This year's Independence Day will not soon be forgotten by members and friends of the Unitarian Universalist Congregation of Greater Canton, Ohio. July 1, 2007 was the congregation's first weekend in their new building, a former car dealership at a busy intersection in Canton, after many years of meeting in rented space and moving from one location to another. This is quite an accomplishment for a smaller congregation of about 50 adults and 30 children, in existence for just 15 years. In addition to meeting this financial challenge, the lay-led congregation is in the search for a part-time minister. All the while, the congregation has maintained full Fair Share giving to both the Ohio-Meadville District and the Unitarian Universalist Association.

The congregation's president, Dianne Digianantonio, reports, "We've always made the commitment to give our fair share to the district and the UUA. We have gotten so much support from them and from our involvement." And involved they are, with Dianne serving on the district's new Leadership Team and another member serving on the Ohio-Meadville District Board. Congregation members have been active participants in district conferences and leadership training events.

There is a spirit of generosity at work in this thriving congregation that seems to spring from their strong sense of UU identity. Dianne notes that the congregation made a special effort to buy Beacon Press books to help the publisher and the UUA during a financial crunch several years ago. They used the Beacon books in their religious education classes.

Everyone is involved in renovating their new space. People of all ages showed up for a big work party during which 3,000 square feet of carpet was pulled up in the windowed showroom that serves as their sanctuary. Surfaces were cleaned for painting, and plans made for tearing out walls to expand the space for the growing attendance at Sunday services. The work parties will continue until the congregation has their building ready for the many newcomers who will find them in their new, highly visible location.

The congregation's generosity has come back to them: an anonymous gift toward the purchase of their building was made by someone who had moved away from Canton. The donor had not been a member, but wanted there to be a Unitarian Universalist home for those in the Greater Canton community.
