You Are Not Alone

by Rev. Dr. Monica L. Cummings

Remember, when you feel different because of the texture and color of your hair,

You Are Not Alone.

Remember, when you feel shame because of the shape and color of your eyes,

You Are Not Alone.

Remember, when you feel hatred because of the color of your skin,

You Are Not Alone.

Remember, you are the child of the Spirit that sustains life.

You Are Not Alone.

Remember, you are loved.

We Are Not Alone.
