One Useful Tool

Growing Multiracial/Multicultural Congregations

"Multiracial, multicultural congregations rehearse the Reign of God on earth. The first congregations were diverse; our congregations can be, too. Here is a way forward."

These words introduce a great new resource on building the beloved community: 10 Essential Strategies to Grow a Multiracial/Multicultural Congregation, by the Rev. Jacqueline J. Lewis, Ph.D. If you weren't able to attend this year's "Leading Edge Conference" at the Middle Collegiate Church this year, you can still order this simple fifteen page guide to transforming your congregation. Although the tool is geared for a Christian audience, many Unitarian Universalists had input into its creation. The guide includes sage advice garnered from real life experience, and builds in exercises and processes you can use in your congregation. From creating a Vision, to building commitment, capacity and managing change, this will be a great companion for the journey.

To order, contact Middle Collegiate Church Individual copies are $5 and come with permission to photocopy the reproducible worksheets for classroom/congregational use only. Or, take advantage of the bulk discount: 5 copies for $20.
