

The Board of Trustees of the UUA would like to express deep gratitude to several members of the Investment Committee for bringing their expertise in service of our denomination during the last number of years. We are grateful for each outgoing member and will sorely miss each of your presence.

Brian Lasher's long-term efforts as a calming, focused, and extremely effective co-chair will be a real loss. Vanessa Lowe's deep expertise in Community Development Financial Institutions, well-timed questions, and maintaining a laser focus on BIPOC managers and beneficiaries will be an example for the IC to emulate. Eric Horvath's incredibly detailed and in-depth financial due diligence on our new direct Community Investments portfolio will be a gap that the IC will struggle to fill.

We hope you are able to lift up your years of service on our behalf with fondness, and we would welcome your service again if you decide that there is other work that might inspire you to join us again. The Board of Trustees wishes you all well, and thanks you heartily for your service.
