US Senate
1/11/2021	Civil Rights & Religious Liberty	Letter	On behalf of the below organizations representing tens of millions of Americans, we write in strong support of H.R. 1/S. 1, the For the People Act. This transformational democracy reform package would help return power to everyday American families and amplify the voices of communities that have historically been marginalized in our democracy.	US House of Representatives
1/15/2021	Civil Rights & Religious Liberty	Letter	We write as national faith-based bodies and organizations requesting that you re-establish a robust White House faith-based office. We deeply appreciate the outreach of Biden transition teams over the past two months—truly validating that your Administration sees faith partners across a range of faith traditions as important for both policy and outreach with people across the country.	President of the United States
1/19/2021	LGBTQ Welcome & Equality	Letter	We, a coalition of LGBTQI+ and allied organizations, write to encourage you to approve the appointment of Pennsylvania Secretary of Health, Dr. Rachel Levine, to serve as Assistant Secretary for Health.	US Senate
1/21/2021	International Human Rights & Justice	Statement	The coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) pandemic is a grave reminder that biological threats, whether naturally occurring, accidental, or deliberate, can have significant and potentially existential consequences for humanity. This memorandum reaffirms Executive Order 13747 of November 4, 2016, which made clear that these threats pose global challenges that require global solutions.	National Security Memorandum
1/26/2021	Immigration Justice	Statement	Harsh immigration laws disproportionately lead to the targeting, jailing, and destruction of families of color. Anti-immigrant laws passed in 1996 drove mass incarceration and mass deportation of people of color. A harmful law passed by a white supremacist Senator in 1929 has also enabled significant abuses in recent years, from “assembly-line” hearings of shackled people, to the tearing of children from parents at the border.	US House of Representatives

US Congress
1/27/2021	Immigration Justice	Letter	We are immigrants, legal and advocacy organizations, and members of the faith-based community who work to promote and protect the rights of immigrants. We write to make clear the narrow scope of Judge Drew B. Tipton’s unjust and legally unsound decision to grant a nationwide Temporary Restraining Order (TRO) against the Biden Administration’s 100-day deportation moratorium. We expect the Administration to exercise discretion in individual cases to protect family unity, fairly and equitably administer the law, and preserve the key role immigrants play in their communities and our economy.	President of the United States
1/27/2021	Political Justice	Letter	Instead of creating a list of insurrection-supporting or insurrection-enabling politicians, corporate America should use lessons from this episode as a basis to end their electioneering efforts, altogether.	Corporate America

2/3/2021	Economic Justice	Statement	As members of the Washington Interreligious Staff Community, we come together to offer policy proposals that together can enable our communities, nation, and world to flourish. These proposals are bold and imaginative, but they are entirely within our grasp if we focus our collective will and resources on this defining struggle of our times.	Recommendations for a Faithful Recovery
2/4/2021	Immigration Justice	Letter	We, the undersigned organizations, write during a moment of reckoning for a new era of immigration policies grounded in racial equity and compassion. As your administration establishes a new approach, we urge you to quickly uphold your commitment to end mass prosecutions of individuals through practices like Operation Streamline that deny individuals their right to a fair hearing and due process. We also call on your administration to halt all prosecutions for unauthorized entry (8 U.S.C. § 1325) and reentry (8 U.S.C. § 1326) violations, and de-prioritize the use of criminal prosecutions for migration related offenses going forward. We write today to share our experience of Vanita Gupta's interaction with members of the faith community in Washington, D.C. We have worked with Ms. Gupta at the Leadership Conference on Civil and Human Rights (LCCHR) since 2017 and have found Ms. Gupta to be a thoughtful, creative and committed partner to us on the issues of civil and human rights. 2/26/2021	Immigration Justice	Letter	As religious leaders and faith-based organizations across the United States representing diverse faith traditions and beliefs, we write to express our deep concern about the targeted detention and deportation of Black migrants, and the expulsions of Haitians at the border under policies carried over from the previous administration, especially as we celebrate Black History Month. With every deportation and expulsion flight, we are placing lives at risk and abdicating from our moral and legal obligations to provide protection. We urge you to take immediate action to save Black migrants' lives by exercising your authority to halt deportation flights and stop expelling Haitians under Title 42.	President of the United States
2/26/2021	Economic Justice	Letter	The undersigned faith-based organizations urge that The Raise the Wage Act of 2021 be passed into law as quickly as possible and by whatever means necessary. The Raise the Wage Act, as introduced in the Senate by Senators Bernie Sanders (VT) and Patty Murray (WA), and in the House by Representative Robert C. 3/1/2021	Immigration Justice	Letter	The undersigned organizations write today to draw your attention to urgent, unaddressed concerns regarding the Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) detention system. On February 11th, many of our organizations delivered a letter urging you to prioritize the implementation of a file review process, initiated by ICE, to reconsider the custody determination for every person in ICE custody. More than a month later, the process made available by ICE for case review has been shown to be plainly inadequate, another person has died in ICE custody, and thousands remain unnecessarily behind bars at grave risk to their wellbeing. 3/2/2021	Civil Rights & Religious Liberty	Letter	The following faith-based advocates and congregations strive for policies that diminish inequality, support the most vulnerable, nurture human potential, root out systemic racism, and protect the health and well-being of all members of our society and of creation. A broken democracy has clear and detrimental impacts on the issues important to us. The democratic systems that underlie our advocacy no longer seem capable of contending with the big problems facing our country, our communities, and our congregations. It is in that spirit that we urge immediate passage of the For the People Act (H.R.1).	US House of Representatives
3/3/2021	Immigration Justice	Letter	We, the undersigned, write to express our horror and outrage regarding the United States government's plan to deport over 1,800 people to Haiti, which, with painful irony, the Biden-Harris Administration started on the first day of Black History Month. As Congressional Representative Mondaire Jones said, "We're just three days into #BlackHistoryMonth and ICE has already sent planes full of Black people to Cameroon and Haiti in defiance of @POTUS' executive order." 4/12/2021	Civil Rights & Religious Liberty	Statement	As organizations that represent religious denominations or are formally affiliated with religious communities, we express our deep concern about the recent proliferation in a number of states of legislation seeking to exempt houses of worship and religious gatherings from the reach of regulations and emergency orders related to public health issues and emergencies such as COVID-19. We appreciate the desire to protect our right to worship and gather for religious activities. Too often, however, these bills are overly broad and could result in policies that threaten public health and safety.	Public statement

We are a broad coalition that represents a deep variety of faith communities across the country. As faith leaders, we believe all people are created in God's image and are deserving of redemption and forgiveness. We also believe that standing up for racial justice is part of putting our faith in action.
