One Thing Going On

Congregational Resources for Grassroots Immigration Advocacy

The UUA and our coalition partners Interfaith Immigration Coalition, National Day Laborer's Organizing Network (NDLON) and the New Sanctuary movement are launching a national campaign of immigration advocacy in our communities. Our goal is to have interfaith teams meeting with officials in their communities to advocate for changes in the way communities respond to requests by Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) to detain people arrested and to stop the unlimited access of ICE agents to jails.

Join us for the next Webinar on Thursday, February 2nd at 8:00 p.m. EST. This webinar is part of the Standing on the Side of Love's 30 Days of Love Campaign. Sign up here! Download the Advocacy Toolkit, a step by step guide to changing your community's policy on ICE Hold Requests.

Look at the online map to see if there any teams that have formed or are forming in your community.

One Useful Tool

Continental UU Women

The Continental UU Women and Religion movement promotes networking among UU women's groups. A grassroots project started by lay leaders in the 1970s as an effort to promote examination of religious roots of sexism and patriarchy within the UUA, UUW&R officially began as a task force following the unanimously-passed WOMEN AND RELIGION RESOLUTION at the 1977 UUA General Assembly. They have an annual gathering at GA and a booth in the display area.

"We do not want a piece of the pie. It is still a patriarchal pie. We want to change the recipe!"

Rosemary Matson

Although the Task Force was eventually sunsetted, the movement still exists in UU Districts that hold Women & Religion programs and woman-focused gatherings. District and congregational UU women's groups can submit events at www.uuwr.org for the online calendar! The site also features links to District UUW&R groups.

Cakes for the Queen of Heaven curriculum classes can post their events at: www.cakesforthequeenofheaven.org.
