for people people affected by the traumas of addiction, incarceration, war, abuse, and other violence.*

We welcome anyone who wants to become his or her best self.

We are glad you are with us.

Our Mission

By providing healing worship and affirming ministries, Universalist Recovery Church brings the Universalist values of love and acceptance to people in recovery and their loved ones

What is recovery?

We define recovery as a willingness to heal from the past, a commitment to treat others with compassion and integrity, and a desire to live free in mind, heart, and spirit.

Our Services and Our Volunteers

Universalist Recovery Church meets every Sundays at 4 PM at Eastrose Unitarian Universalist Fellowship at 1133 NE 181st Ave in Gresham.

phone: 503-734-9634; email: info@urcportland.org; website: urcportland.org; look for us on Facebook.

Our volunteers help by serving as worship leader, greeting visitors, playing music for services, setting up for the services, and helping out behind the scenes with administrative and committee functions.

Associated ministers are the Revs. Patti Pomerantz, Ashton Roberts, Connie Yost, and David Maynard.

To receive our e-newsletter and updates, give us your email address when you come to a service or sign up online.

Chalice Oak Foundation, a 501(c)3 organization, is sponsoring and mentoring us. Your contributions to URC are tax deductible.

We are supported in part by the UU Funding Program.
