

Love, Break Our Hearts

For Charlottesville, August 13, 2017

Jason Shelton

Solemnly ♩=88

Love, once a - gain, break our hearts o - pen wide. —

Fine

Fine

Love, once a - gain, break our hearts o - pen wide. —

D.C. al Fine

D.C. al Fine

Notes: repeat as many times as feels right. I recommend ending the piece on the Bb7 chord at the end of the phrase so that it holds an "unfinished" quality, as the work of love is ongoing.

"Love" may be interchanged with "Lord" in communities where doing so rings true, theologically.