NEW Approaches: The Breadth of the Curriculum

The Circles of Sexuality

Sexuality encompasses nearly every aspect of our being, from attitudes and values to feelings and experiences. It is influenced by the individual, family, culture, religion/spirituality, laws, professions, institutions, science and politics.

- Sensuality involves our level of awareness, acceptance and enjoyment of our own or others’ bodies.
- Intimacy is the experience of mutual closeness with another person.
- Sexual Identity is how we perceive ourselves as sexual beings.
- Values
- Sexual Health & Reproduction
  - Anatomy & physiology
  - Sexual/reproductive systems
  - Intercourse
  - Contraception-abortion
  - Sexually transmitted infections

Sexualization involves the use of sexuality to influence, control, and/or manipulate others.

Sexual health and reproduction focuses on attitudes and behaviors related to the sexual and reproductive systems, including health and hygiene, the health consequences of sexual behaviors, and the biology of producing children.

“Circles of Sexuality,” adapted from Life Planning Education, 1995, Advocates for Youth, Washington DC, advocatesforyouth.org, based on the original work of Dennis M. Dailey, Professor Emeritus, University of Kansas.

WORKSHOP GOALS
• To understand that sexuality is a part of every day life
• To recognize the breadth of representations of sexuality
• To reflect on the sexual images they may encounter in the media
• To reinforce their own values and ideas about sexuality and how those values may be different from what is portrayed in the media

LEARNING OBJECTIVES
After completing this workshop, participants will be able to:
• Identify ways that everyday life involves different facets of sexuality
• Recognize how the media portray sexuality and how that may be different from their own individual expression and values
• Distinguish between real life and life as portrayed by the media
WORKSHOP GOALS
• To think about their own and other people’s bodies.
• To learn about body image.
• To explore societal, familial, and personal assumptions about bodies
• To affirm their own bodies
• To explore the diversity of bodies and abilities
• To determine what they can do to keep their own bodies healthy

LEARNING OBJECTIVES
After completing this workshop, participants will be able to:
• Describe several influences on body image
• Name some of the diverse experiences that people may associate with bodies
• List ways that they can keep their own bodies healthy
Consent and Peer Pressure

WORKSHOP GOALS

• To understand the concept of consent
• To identify signals indicating consent and refusal
• To understand the importance of clear communication
• To recognize peer pressure
• To respond to situations that may be challenging or hurtful
• To identify people who can be helpful in difficult situations

LEARNING OBJECTIVES
After completing this workshop, participants will be able to:
• Define the concept of consent
• Distinguish between communicating consent and refusal
• Identify at least two trustworthy people from whom they could seek help in a difficult situation
• Demonstrate two effective ways to communicate feelings
• Describe some ways that peers can pressure others
• Identify two effective ways to respond to peer pressure
Healthy Relationships and Celebration!

WORKSHOP GOALS

- To recognize qualities of healthy relationships
- To celebrate their participation in the Our Whole Lives program

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

At the end of this workshop, participants will be able to:
- Identify at least two components of a healthy relationship
- Describe three things they have learned during their experience of the Our Whole Lives program

Best Practices: OWL Scheduling
Best Practices:
Sex Education as Social Justice Work

“Sexuality education is but one way I promote inclusive justice making. It has many social justice elements: education, equality, justice, diversity, and self-determination.

I was drawn to OWL because of the Anti-Racism and Anti-Oppression work involved in it. I contribute that lens to all aspects of OWL.”

-- Cindy Beal, OWL Trainer
Best Practices:

Sexuality and Our Faith

If we use OWL in a UCC or UU setting, must we use Sexuality and Our Faith?
Parent Orientation as a Covenant

- Parents commit to supporting the program by ensuring their children come to OWL meetings.
- Facilitators commit to presenting quality sexuality education while supporting parents as their children's primary sexuality educators.
