12:16:21 From Lyn Cox (she/her) : Yes, the song is on worship web and we can use it

12:16:24 From Rev. Janet Newton : <https://www.uua.org/worship/words/music/right-here>

12:16:38 From Cassandra Howe : Thank you!!

12:17:06 From laurel liefert : Laurel Liefert (she/her) appreciating being together. My greeting from Loveland said only "me" so I didn't want to be anonymous.

12:17:43 From Katy Carpman : Laurel, it does tell us your name -- it just doesn't tell you. :)

12:18:58 From Beth Miller to All panelists : chat messages disappear after 25. Are those available somewhere?

12:19:23 From Beryl Aschenberg : What people need: connection and spiritual grounding

12:19:44 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb to Beth Miller, All Panelists : We'll repeat the resources & I'll email them out later 12:20:51 From Tech Host - Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) : Anyone on this call can save the chat themselves, too. On a computer (not sure how this works on a tablet/phone) you click on the three dots on the right next to the "to" in your chat. Then choose the option to save the chat. It will download it on your computer.

12:21:49 From Jonalu Johnstone : Being with my people.

12:22:12 From Tech Host - Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) to Ellen Allen, All Panelists : Ellen, you have your hand up. Do you need help?

12:22:22 From Rev. Janet Newton : I don't know if that's true, Sarah - I don't have those dots in my non-host/panelist version.

12:22:29 From Lori Hlaban : Sarah GM: I don't see an option to save the chat. The only thing that comes up for me is "Merge with Meeting Window."

12:22:35 From Tech Host - Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) to Holley Ulbrich, All Panelists : Holley, you have your hand up. Do you need help?

12:22:42 From Phyllis Schmitt : Yep me too

12:22:47 From Sarah Witte to All panelists : perhaps the chat could be emailed to us later as a doc or pdf. would love that!

12:22:49 From Peregrine M-W (he/they) : Usually anyone can save the chat, but I don't think that's a thing in webinar mode

12:22:51 From Karen (she/her/hers) UCE to All panelists : no three dots

12:23:00 From Beryl Aschenberg : I wonder if only moderators/co hosts can save chat?

12:23:02 From Deanna Vandiver : We recorded the lighting and extinguishing of the WSUU chalice to use for each virtual service

12:23:04 From Tech Host – Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) to dml, All Panelists : DML, you have your hand up. Do you need help?

12:23:06 From Phyllis Schmitt : I brought our wonder box home. our chalice is too big.

12:23:16 From Molly Housh Gordon : We did a service where the whole service was helping and guiding people to create a sacred space in their own home.

12:23:17 From Tech Host – Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) to Sarah Ahrens, All Panelists : Sarah, you have your hand up. Do you need help?

12:23:28 From Tech Host – Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) to Katy Carpman, All Panelists : Katy, you have your hand up. Do you need help?

12:23:35 From Andrew Millard : I recorded a movie of our chalice being lit, which I'm going to use for our Zoom service this Sunday.

12:23:36 From Peregrine M-W (he/they) : Molly that's brilliant!

12:23:38 From Jo Ellen Miano : Neat idea, Molly!

12:23:39 From Sky Williams–Tao, they/them/theirs : Oh I love that Molly! Thank you for sharing 12:23:41 From Donna Dolham to All panelists : We took pics and videos of joys and concerns candles and chalice to put up on the screen during service.

12:23:53 From Linda Hunter : Can we somehow transfer the chalice pictures on the tablets to the zoom presentation?

12:23:57 From Rev. Janet Newton : I'm curious about the neurological difference between live and video-recorded. I have a video of our chalice lighting, but I wonder if it is more resonant live?

12:23:58 From Shari Woodbury (she/her) : I brought pulpit cloths and banners home I can hang behind me in my home office if we end up going to Zoom (we are still doing Facebook live from sanctuary currently)... have our chime in my car so no matter where we do worship next, I'll have that familiar sound

12:24:15 From Tech Host – Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) to All panelists : Sorry to mislead folks about saving the chat. I am able to do it when I'm a participant in other Zoom calls, but I have a Zoom Pro account. Perhaps only people with Zoom Pro can do that.

12:24:19 From aaronnorris : Make sure if you are sharing objects from home to home that you sterilize them

12:24:31 From Beth Miller to All panelists : we recorded Chalice lightings, extinguishings, and our musicians offerings

12:24:33 From Lori Hlaban : Linda: Yes! You can take photos & screen share during the worship.

12:24:36 From Katy Carpman : Whoops– must have clicked the hand button when changing other settings!

12:24:37 From Tech Host – Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) to All panelists : We will make sure to share links in a follow up email or online when the video goes up. :-)

12:24:47 From chalicinsamaya@gmail.com : I've done that as well - and I have the candles that we use for joys and sorrows as well

12:24:56 From amycarolwebb (she/her/they) : Yes, we took video of all the touchstone items in our space, and weave them into virtual service.

12:25:14 From Mary MacKay : if you use Zoom you can use a photo for background -- could have photo of your worship space...

12:25:26 From Chris Rothbauer : We ring our giant bell every week to signal the start of service so we recorded one of our members ringing it. We even recorded coffee brewing into our urns for virtual coffee hour lol

12:25:29 From Jean Johnson : We took a photo of the sedilia behind the pulpit and are using it as our Zoom background photo

12:25:32 From Rev. Paul Oakley : Our Worship Arts Team Leader is a photographer/artist and is today taking pictures in our space to use in out sheltering-in-place worship.

12:25:42 From Brian Chenowith : I guess I could bring the handheld microphone we use for Joys and Sorrows home and hold it to the screen... ;)

12:25:56 From jvaustenfled : As music director, I'm making it a priority to sing as much as I can during each service (whether I pre-record or sing live on Zoom) because I think it's more personal and familiar for people to hear me rather than someone else's voice

12:25:59 From Laurie Bilby : We are trying at South Church NH to bring our homes into our church, rather than church to home. Thus far the opportunity to see others light the chalice in their homes is a deeper connecting.

12:26:16 From Corinna Whiteaker-Lewis : My city's stay at home order has an exception for church staff to travel for worship recording purposes

12:26:35 From amycarolwebb (she/her/they) : We did "walk-in" vid through our front door, name tag wall, hymn rack, etc. - people reporting how much they needed to see that

12:26:47 From Beryl Aschenberg : Our staff felt strongly that the empty pews felt depressing...

12:27:04 From Jo Ellen Miano : JVaustenfled, how successful have you been with the quality of the audio when you sing live on Zoom? I have not been happy with my own tests.

12:27:33 From Chip Roush (he/they) : empty streets and empty pews are not a sign of doom; they are the embodiment of love & caring for others

12:27:40 From Francie Pearce : photos of stained glass windows

12:27:43 From jvaustenfled : Hi! Julia (they/them) here, can't seem to change my user name. We have had issues with the audio cutting off and on during the hymns despite my excellent home audio setup

12:28:08 From Katy Carpman : I shot some amazing blooper reel of trying to light the chalice and film it... so much alcohol fire in the wrong places...

12:28:12 From jvaustenfled : I am going to try some pre-recorded videos this week because I think the streaming is the issue even with optimized Zoom audio settings

12:28:13 From Melissa Barlett : I also did live singing for our first Zoom service, and I listened to the recording after, and it came out pretty good. Instruments not so great, but simple voice was good.

12:28:18 From Joan McDonald : we are planning to record the bells ringing as well as walking into the sanctuary

12:28:21 From aaronnorris : We made sure to change up images of all things broadly and also very close detail

12:28:41 From Jo Ellen Miano : Yes. That is my experience. Even the pre-recorded "opening video" of today's webinar had blips in the sound.

12:28:43 From Alissa Rhode : As a Music Director, I am leaning into public domain music or music shared directly by singer-songwriter members/friends, so that we can focus creative energies on curating content, rather than spending all our time researching and seeking out copyright clearance. My biggest concern is that as all of our churches are ending up so completely public and worldwide, what are best practices for maintaining privacy for those who might be sharing music but do not want to share the imperfections of the recorded moment for the entire world? Up until March 15, we had turned off the "Big Brother" livestream camera in order to observe the highest standard of personal protection and privacy for our musicians.

12:29:37 From Kathleen Hogue : Here is a resource for improving sound when doing music on Zoom.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=50NoWIiYECA&feature=youtu.be&fbclid=IwAR1EaMd6\_DQUfW2h-XVnHLbhaVVJyAkTCnVq2EYFP4eeSq0Q70DZKir5Uhc

12:30:28 From Tech Host – Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) to All panelists : Thank you Kathleen!

12:30:36 From Ann Johnson : Here's another one that will help music quality better on Zoom. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=STXzs5qnPwg&app=desktop>

12:30:40 From Phyllis Schmitt : I've been recording from home. It feels weird to me to pretend we're together in the sanctuary. We're not, they're not.

12:30:50 From Tech Host – Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) to All panelists : Thanks, Ann!

12:31:25 From Leslie Woodward to All panelists : Erika, are you standing or sitting atm? I'm feeling constricted by the need to sit when I'm recording worship segments.

12:31:48 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb to Leslie Woodward, All Panelists : I am at a standing desk. I can't sit still ever.

12:31:51 From Emily : There is guidance that what is done in worship is OK to use – especially in Zoom (as it is closed & for members/friends) Use the UU hymnal etc but not non-worship plays, etc.

12:32:09 From Leslie Woodward to All panelists : Erika – LOL. Thanks.
12:32:17 From Marcia Stanard : I've received feedback from folks about how meaningful it was to see me in the sanctuary. YMMV
12:32:18 From she/hers Karen G Johnston to All panelists : as long as you don't record and post Zoom
12:32:34 From Lyn Cox (she/her) : We collaborated with another congregation last Sunday, we're doing our own thing this week. We blended comforting points from both churches. It was important to me that if something should happen to me, my parishioners are familiar with neighboring ministers.
12:33:23 From David & Michelle Keip to All panelists : people need sense of safety & trust, reinforced by familiar
12:33:24 From Tech Host – Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) to All panelists : Marcia, I affirm what you're saying about people wanting to see their own people. Some of our large congregations have generously invited smaller lay-led congregations to join them for online worship, and generally the smaller ones don't take them up on the offer.
12:33:34 From Jonalu Johnstone : It could be an opportunity to collaborate with other congregations we already have a relationships with. For example, in Kansas, we do regular pulpit exchanges, so connecting together would make sense.
12:33:56 From nancylewin@verizon.net : would also appreciate technical tips for best integrating pictures, audio, video
12:34:23 From Tech Host – Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) to All panelists : Yes, Jonalu. That's the situation for our four southern AZ congregations—they all know each other—so it worked really well for them to do online worship together last week.
12:34:26 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb to nancylewin@verizon.net, All Panelists : We may not be able to do much technical content today, but I hear you!
12:34:37 From Alissa Rhode : When we are sending our Zoom Webinar to Youtube, which then sends it to Facebook, it exposes everyone to the entire world and it is not private. That is a huge concern to me. How do we balance/negotiate the desire of some staff to reach the whole world with other staff's concerns about protecting member privacy, particularly those who are stretching to record themselves in their homes in this very strange moment?
12:34:58 From Tech Host – Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) : Nancy, lots of good tech tips here: <https://www.uua.org/leadership/library/streaming>
12:35:14 From Tech Host – Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) : Yes, Jonalu. That's the situation for our four southern AZ congregations—they all know each other—so it worked really well for them to do online worship together last week.
12:35:17 From nancylewin@verizon.net : TY!
12:35:20 From Lyn Cox (she/her) : We're saving personal information for the text chat, which is not preserved for future playback.
12:35:37 From Melissa Barlett : I'm editing when I post services, to keep the service parts, but eliminate the community candles, discussion, and other personal parts.

12:35:38 From Rev. Janet Newton : Please please please be conscious of security of people's private information with all of this. We've all been dealing with greater phishing efforts even before this. Phishers with some real information can be very effective. :(

12:35:47 From Tech Host - Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) : Marcia, I affirm what you're saying about people wanting to see their own people. Some of our large congregations have generously invited smaller lay-led congregations to join them for online worship, and generally the smaller ones don't take them up on the offer.

12:36:13 From Andrew Millard : I extracted just the sermon from the Zoom recording, uploaded that to YouTube as an unlisted recording, and then posted the link in the members section of our website.

12:36:16 From First Parish in Concord : I could see you.

12:36:16 From Lynn (she/they) Wendy (name not pronouns) : We can.

12:36:18 From she/hers Karen G Johnston to All panelists : We can

12:36:19 From nancylewin@verizon.net : we get thumbnails of you marcia

12:36:21 From Jessica she/her : We are only broadcasting via Zoom with our private link and not live streaming

12:36:27 From Kimberlee Tomczak Carlson : yes we can see u

12:36:38 From Lori Hlaban : Not all of us can see Marcia

12:36:41 From Lyn Marshall : You have to set your view so that you can see Marcia. I couldn't but now I can.

12:36:46 From Lyn Marshall : Upper right corner.

12:36:47 From Phyllis Schmitt : probably depends on your device too

12:36:48 From Tech Host - Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) to All panelists : I see Marcia.

12:36:49 From Sarah Witte to All panelists : if you click on the little rectangle above marcia's name you will see her little screen in screen

12:36:51 From Susan Sherman : We got a suggestion in a local webinar to put googly eyes on your camera to remind you to look there. :)

12:37:00 From Alice Diebel, she/hers : Her name should appear - click on the box to make her appear.

12:37:03 From Jessica she/her : If you are on a laptop you need to exit full screen to see Marcia and the slides

12:37:28 From Thea Shapiro : we used zoom and put slides of the words up so everyone could sing at home.

12:37:30 From Jo Ellen Miano : When the host shares a screen, the participant can only see the shared screen. The host can have a split screen.

12:37:44 From Sarah Witte to All panelists : if you click on the little rectangle above marcia's name you will see her little screen in screen

12:37:50 From dml to All panelists : All previous chat messages have disappeared

12:38:03 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb : We'll repeat links soon!

12:38:35 From Beryl Aschenberg : At Follen, we are practicing Worship via zoom the Friday prior... we found sound is very different via zoom... very helpful to get feedback on sound (singing bowl or guitar for instance) or where you sit and what is showing in the video; voice moderation, etc. It's brought us all closer in a state of collaborative worship design

12:38:43 From Lyn Marshall : When the host shares the screen, you can have a small or large "active speaker" view.

12:38:53 From Lyn Marshall : On a Mac laptop anyway.

12:39:14 From Andrew Millard : It's different on different platforms.

12:39:19 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb : tutorial
<https://www.facebook.com/sarahskochko/posts/538107396840876>

12:39:37 From aaronnorris : True Dat!

12:39:39 From Phyllis Schmitt : I made a link to that video -
tinyurl.com/ZoomUU

12:39:43 From Rev. Janet Newton : I also absolutely remove my own photo from the grid. I get distracted by my hair.

12:40:39 From Susanne Intriligator : We are doing Joys and Sorrows as first names only. Workable compromise.

12:41:18 From Lenore Bajare-Dukes : Any recommendations for how spiritual practices OTHER than Sunday morning might supplement worship? Especially wondering this as a DLFD whose portfolio includes adult faith development.

12:41:24 From julia@ussb.org : We are getting lots of online visitors - I think we are going to plan a virtual "bring a friend" Sunday in a couple weeks, with some UU101 content for newcomers.

12:41:37 From Susanne Hinson-Rieger to All panelists : Tips for preaching/leading from a prepared text/notes while also looking into laptop camera?

12:41:46 From uusunshine@gmail.com : Dan Harper also has a good blogpost on making yourself look decent on camera. <https://www.danielharper.org/yauu/2020/03/make-yourself-look-good-on-camera/>

12:41:47 From Andrew Millard : Last Sunday we used breakout rooms so that people could check in with one another in small groups, and that meant a lot to people. We'll keep doing it!

12:41:56 From Jennifer Innis : We save visiting and sharing joys and sorrows for before and after worship.

12:41:58 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb to Phyllis Schmitt, All Panelists : AMAZING! thanks

12:41:59 From Corinna Whiteaker-Lewis : A blend of a recorded worship followed by a zoom of joys and concerns has worked well for us

12:42:01 From Carol Wilsey to All panelists : We're running a virtual coffee hour via text box next to the stream to let people connect with each other at their level of comfort

12:42:04 From Beryl Aschenberg : Just to clarify, my comments about practicing were not about perfection, but rather with getting comfortable with how we move through worship in ways that are intentional

12:42:04 From Susanne Hinson-Rieger : Tips for preaching/leading from a prepared text/notes while also looking into laptop camera?

12:42:07 From Alice Diebel, she/hers : Are breakout rooms recorded?

12:42:07 From Lyn Marshall : Lenore Bajare-Dukes, I'd be happy to talk with you about what we're doing, lyn@concorduu.org.

12:42:10 From Leslie Woodward : Sharing worship with another congregation this coming week. Being sure to include our covenant and our benediction along with the regular elements from their congregation.

12:42:11 From First Unitarian : we are doing small group connection circles on zoom – one time sign ups and ongoing groups meeting on zoom

12:42:13 From Rev. Janet Newton : I have a small congregation, so I have someone whose job is to rename people as they come in, so we know exactly who is on.

12:42:20 From Lora Powell-Haney (she/her/hers) to All panelists : I did and will do a daily spiritual practice/meditation based on Soul Matters Sharing Circle packets and the Sacred Words Supplements. just 15 minutes each morning; well attended!

12:42:22 From Brian Chenowith : We did breakout rooms, too. People loved it and it kept going and going and going. Longest “coffee hour” ever.

12:42:46 From Alissa Rhode : We had 1200 views of our March 15 Sunday service on Youtube, and now I fear it will be difficult to maintain a “safe place to fail” for my musicians (and myself).

12:42:47 From Patrick McLaughlin : What I did this past Sunday was to invite J&S to the open chat IF people were comfortable with that. AND that more private ones be sent just to ME in the chat. They could have that held up anonymously or semi anonymously (first name.. which would identify within the congregation, but not to the vast world out there).

12:42:47 From Melissa Barlett : Breakout room folks – did you do them randomly?

12:42:53 From James Sanderson : One of our members is hosting a daily virtual check in on Zoom, kind of a coffee hour on line

12:42:59 From Shari Woodbury (she/her) : Re: preaching from script while staying engaged with camera -- I was standing really close to streaming device last Sunday and had my printed materials in a black choir folder, so I could hold it up high. And just being conscious of making eye contact with the camera similar to how I look out into the congregation.

12:43:01 From Lyn Cox (she/her) : One nice thing about the collaboration is that the other congregation has a music license that lets them hold on to the recording, while ours only allows us to broadcast/perform live. The congregation I serve would have a hard time paying for the license that would allow us to record the music that the music director really wants to use. So now I have to take time out of pastoral care to cultivate a donor to help us buy the extra license.

12:43:03 From David & Michelle Keip to All panelists : Would you please say something about the relative advantages of Zoom vs. facebook live?

12:43:06 From Brian Chenowith : Yep, randomly, but I also move around our “Tech Ushers” who are also facilitators and co-hosts.

12:43:07 From Jay Roller : Our Caring Committee is holding weekly check-in zoom calls for anyone in the congregation who wants to join.

We will be aware of the privacy concerns and ask that people who want special attention let us know. We will contact them privately by phone.

12:43:08 From Andrew Millard : Yes, random breakout rooms.

12:43:13 From Lyn Marshall : We are doing slightly structured Zoom options after worship. We have three accounts so we can create three choices that people can self-select.

12:43:23 From Lori Hlaban : We did breakout rooms randomly & I gave people a reflection question from the homily to discuss among themselves.

12:43:31 From Rev. Janet Newton : Lyn, I want to know more about that.

12:43:31 From Lisa Fagerstrom : In addition to worship, our minister and team use the "random" option on breakout rooms to have "coffee hour" in small groups after worship. That has actually encouraged some people to "attend" coffee hour who usually don't like to take part. And, it is a great way to be able to talk and connect and talk about worship.

12:44:01 From Tech Host - Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) : Great idea!

12:44:06 From Alison Vernon to All panelists : I think it is important to have a "Plan B". If the minister is doing it all to keep worship going virtually, what will happen if the minister gets sick. I suggest working on a volunteer virtual production committee/team who can keep things going if necessary.

12:44:11 From Tech Host - Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) : I think Phyllis is actually Christina Tracy.

12:44:32 From Lyn Cox (she/her) : Janet, you are welcome to email me. My information in the UUMA directory is up to date.

12:44:44 From Phyllis Schmitt : Yep! Sorry, wrong Zoom account. Christina here... tinyurl.com/ZoomUU

12:44:52 From cathywolff : So how do you find the random option to create breakout rooms? Cathy, Portsmouth, NH

12:45:05 From eric williams to All panelists : Our Fellowship, Boulder Valley UU Fellowship, has done 2 Zoom services, the second one last Sunday was from our private homes. It broke all attendance records for our fellowship. We had breakout rooms, and a virtual coffee hour after, also in breakout rooms.

12:45:08 From Chip Roush (he/they) : random is the default breakout option

12:45:18 From Lynn (she/they) Wendy (name not pronouns) : THANK You!!!! for all that effort Erika!

12:45:28 From Tech Host - Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) : That's fantastic Eric!

12:45:32 From Lori Hlaban : Worked really well for us. 90 members, about 36 in attendance via Zoom last Sunday.

12:45:52 From amanda she:they : hi! love the worship web app and would love to see more stories!

12:46:17 From First Unitarian : This looks very different on an iphone

12:46:22 From Jennifer Innis : I "heart" WorshipWeb!

12:46:30 From First UU Winnipeg : Worship Web is AMAAAAAAAAAZING

12:46:46 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb : WorshipWeb app's

chalice

<https://worshipweb.uua.org/chalice>

12:46:56 From Rev. Janet Newton : Praise be to Erika for all her curation and work, and that it was "built" before we really really really needed it.

12:47:04 From Tech Host – Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) : Erika is on sabbatical from her parish ministry but not from the UUA. She just celebrated her 5 year anniversary as a UUA employee (yay!). We're eligible for sabbatical after 7 years.

12:47:07 From Jessica she/her : Have the authors of these new materials granted copyright permission to record them?

12:47:22 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb : <http://www.uua.org/worship/lab>

12:47:27 From Nancy Wendlandt : Please take your time showing us the webpage so we can take notes

12:47:27 From First Parish in Concord : Awesome! Web based chalice to light. <https://worshipweb.uua.org/chalice>

12:47:45 From Deanna Vandiver : Thank you!!!!

12:47:57 From Brian Chenowith : Ever since you took over, Erika, WorshipWeb is wicked good!

12:47:57 From Tech Host – Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) to All panelists : Erika I can share a bit about the online guide for streaming if you'd like.

12:48:08 From Emilie (she/hers) : I thought you said Worship Blab – which I also thought was an awesome name.

12:48:11 From Lisa Fagerstrom : Will we have access to the recording of this webinar?

12:48:11 From Mavis Cauffman : Wow. Lab sounds wonderful. Thanks

12:48:43 From amanda she:they : is worship web for congregants too?

12:48:46 From Andrew Millard : YES!

12:48:50 From Lynn (she/they) Wendy (name not pronouns) : Excellent!

12:48:54 From Susanne Hinson-Rieger : That is awesome!

12:48:57 From Wendy Bell : Thank you!

12:49:03 From First Unitarian : copyright free!! Yes!!

12:49:03 From 1U Leadership Development to All panelists : WTG on making that list for "use freely" songs!

12:49:04 From Matthew Johnson to All panelists : love you :)

12:49:10 From uusunshine@gmail.com : Yes, Worship Web is for EVERYONE!

12:49:11 From Lyn Cox (she/her) : OMG OMG OMG ERIKA YOU ARE SO AMAZING!!!! Thank you for working on that resource list of the hymnals.

12:49:28 From she/hers Karen G Johnston to All panelists : Erika is beyond super amazing wondrous clever

12:49:28 From Shekela Wanyama : Y'ALL ARE AMAZING! Thank you for that work. Permissions take forever and are so important!

12:49:31 From Matthew Meyer to All panelists : Sanctuary Boston bought an online streaming license for $280/year that covers most pop and mainstream music. <https://christiancopyrightsolutions.com/services/worshipcast/>

12:49:38 From Tech Host – Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) to All

panelists : <https://www.uua.org/leadership/library/streaming>
12:49:44 From Rev Nancy Palmer Jones : I am copying and pasting these links into my own document as we go. ALSO, ERIKA AND MARCIA YOU ARE AMAZING!!

Zoom tutorial

tinyurl.com/ZoomUU

12:50:25 From Lynn (she/they) Wendy (name not pronouns) to All panelists : erika-do you want me to share the google doc i am curating that is a place for folks to put stuff in the meantime? https://docs.google.com/document/d/15sCEYsUlljFagNP-R8YvDghGTGxkVrUbbJBDZaj\_vXI/edit#

12:50:34 From nancylewin@verizon.net : is copyright an issue when we're only on zoom and not livestreaming or posting to website, FB, etc?

12:50:51 From Lyn Marshall : Y'all are AWESOME!

12:50:54 From she/hers Karen G Johnston to All panelists : Thank you Sarah 12:50:56 From Nancy Wendlandt : great!

12:51:03 From Jeanne Pupke to All panelists : We done Erika

12:51:10 From she/hers Karen G Johnston : Thank you Sarah!

12:51:11 From Jeanne Pupke to All panelists : well done

12:51:56 From Lynn (she/they) Wendy (name not pronouns) to All panelists : Exactly. I imagine that this content doc is a place where folks can publish anything (whether or not you put it on the worship web) Everything on it has been given permission.

12:52:31 From Lynn (she/they) Wendy (name not pronouns) : This content has folks who have given permission for use, streaming, and recording with attribution. Content may or may not end up on Worship Web.

https://docs.google.com/document/d/15sCEYsUlljFagNP-R8YvDghGTGxkVrUbbJBDZaj\_vXI/edit#

12:52:33 From Jessica she/her : Awesome news, thank you!

12:52:33 From uusunshine@gmail.com : Nancy Lewin - short answer is that copyright is always a question to be answered and it differs from situation to situation. There isn't a quick-and-dirty answer that I'm aware of.

12:53:10 From Beryl Aschenberg : LOVE Linda Hirshorn!

12:53:47 From Chip Roush (he/they) : there WILL always be singing!

12:54:03 From Sarah Witte to All panelists : how can I keep from singing <3

12:54:13 From Grants Pass UU : Something to be aware of is that copyright can be different for live stream vs recorded to post online.

12:54:31 From Lenore Bajare-Dukes : what about copyright for just meeting over zoom and not even streaming "publicly"?

12:54:51 From Julie Olson : One of my other hats is professional musician. Live performance copyright clearance is different than recording and broadcast clearance. It really is a thorny subject.

12:54:53 From Andrew Millard : Lovely!

12:54:55 From Lynn (she/they) Wendy (name not pronouns) : AUUMM has also been hard at work collecting resources and permissions: <https://www.auumm.org/news/493572/Music-for-Streaming-Worship-during-Social-Distancing-Protocol.htm?fbclid=IwAR1MF3S-zfKs1tN8pLnnTWfsRZbdVHiYo0cW4FSvMcEvjG-Jf4FG06WAOQI>

12:55:26 From Tech Host - Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) : AUUMM is the professional association of UU music professionals.

12:55:49 From Phyllis Schmitt : This is so beautiful.

12:56:08 From Mykal Slack : Lenore, I was told that, as long as worship is only in Zoom, not livestreaming, I could use music from various platforms without having to get permission first because it's a "private" meeting.

12:56:17 From Lenore Bajare-Dukes : thank you Mykal!

12:56:50 From Matthew Johnson to All panelists : Copyright law is out of date and doesn't anticipate the technology of the today. There is no clear answer. Technically, any "broadcast" is not eligible for the "religious service exemption" - but i doubt anyone will enforce if you don't share it. What's legal, what's enforced, and what's moral for musicians are all different questions.

12:57:01 From chalicinsamaya@gmail.com : If things are posted on YouTube can we use those?

12:57:05 From Rev. Janet Newton : Has anyone else played with gridplay on their apple products? I've been able to layer play around and layer myself singing different parts, with video. Hoping to talk other musicians in the church to do this too.

12:57:34 From Jo Ellen Miano : FYI_People with smaller monitors won't be seeing the entire shared screen of that previous score.

12:57:50 From Alice Diebel, she/hers : How about copyright with words? Is verbal attribution enough?

12:57:55 From Brian Chenowith : Peace out! Gotta go to class and listen to something boring and irrelevant in these times. Would rather be with y'all. Thank you for creating this space and I'm looking forward to seeing what I missed in the recording!

12:58:16 From Tech Host - Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) : Take care, Brian!

12:58:16 From Lyn Marshall : We had a virtual choir practice and then choir members were invited to send in recordings of themselves singing to the recorded music. The senior minister layered them for a highly imperfect but lovely "Gathered Here."

12:58:30 From Jo Ellen Miano : Yes! save the chat
12:58:34 From Jay Wolin (he, him, his) : Can you talk more about the mentimeter?
12:58:36 From Tech Host - Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) : WE WILL SAVE THE CHAT. <3
12:58:55 From Alissa Rhode : I'm shocked at how bad even prerecorded audio sounds over Zoom. I need to lift up that most Music Directors are not full-time and rely on other work in the professional music sector. Poor audio floating on the web can invite trolls and kill a career. I really hope that our denomination will step up to protect our musicians rather than take advantage of them.
12:59:00 From Katy Carpman : Thanks, Sarah.
12:59:01 From Cassandra Howe : how do you save the chat?
12:59:06 From Tech Host - Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) to Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb (Privately) : Erika, check out the questions. Five open questions in the Q&A.
12:59:23 From Sal to All panelists : Would ZOOM be a better platform than You Tube for internet worship?
12:59:28 From Jo Ellen Miano to All panelists : Thank you. Gotta sign out.
12:59:38 From Elizabeth Banks : Erika, do we have permission to use Linda's song in our on-line worship?
12:59:42 From Mavis Cauffman : Lyn Marshall -- how to layer choir member recordings??
12:59:43 From Elea Kemler to All panelists : FYI, "AUJMM" should be pronounced "A"--"YOOM" :)
12:59:56 From Lora Powell-Haney (she/her/hers) to All panelists : I have to leave for yet another Zoom call, but look forward to watching the video again and reading the saved Chat :) love to all!
13:00:05 From Lyn Marshall : I have NO idea! That was the senior minister who's a tech wizard and musician.
13:00:37 From Rev. Janet Newton : It takes good mastering/tech skills to use the syncing video programs. If you've got someone with those skills, empower them!
13:00:45 From Andrew Millard : When screen sharing something with sound, e.g. a music video, you need to be on a platform that gives the "share computer audio" option. Otherwise, the only sound is what your mic picks up from your speakers.
13:00:47 From Jessica she/her : You can layer audio recordings through iMovie if you have a mac
13:00:48 From Shekela Wanyama : Soundtrap.com is like an online version of Garageband and allows individuals to record themselves and collaborate online. However it requires comfort with technology for all users.
13:00:49 From Lori Hlaban : I call that rocking motion "the parent dance." Just watch a parent waiting in line, holding a baby.
13:00:58 From Jessica she/her : right, or garageband
13:01:26 From Lenore Bajare-Dukes : Just a reminder that some of us have very bad Zoom connections, so movement on-screen gets lost. Just something to remember.

13:01:32 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb to Andrew Millard, All Panelists : I did blow it on this demo! 😊

13:01:58 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb to Elea Kemler, All Panelists : Thank you!

13:02:37 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb : "In These Hard Times"

<https://www.uua.org/worship/words/music/these-hard-times>

13:02:47 From Leslie Woodward : There are free teleprompter apps if you have two monitors.

13:02:48 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb : Linda Hirschhorn has given permission for this song to be used!

13:03:10 From laurel liefert : At Namaqua, we have a half-plate ministry plus we're in the middle of our pledge drive. I'd like to know how to set up a way for people watching the virtual service to donate.

13:03:19 From she/hers Karen G Johnston to All panelists : I use an teleprompter add and place the iPad just below the camera so that when I am looking, it looks like looking into the camera

13:03:29 From Leslie Woodward : Teleprompter is great if you are sharing poems or readings written by others where the precise words are important.

13:03:50 From Beryl Aschenberg : Leslie Woodward- do you have the name or link to a good teleprompter app

13:03:52 From harriet to All panelists : Just a credit here, Linda is a part of Threshold Choir International; we sing at bedside and she is a frequent contributor to us.

13:03:56 From Jay Roller : Just to say, swaying and moving on camera gives some of us a sense of dizziness/vertigo. I have to look away from the screen at those times. We are all different, but I know how to take care of myself by not looking.

13:04:28 From Lyn Cox (she/her) : Laurel, our finance team was able to update our online giving app to allow people to designate our share the plate partner OR the operating budget. They would have to do two donations to give to both, but at least we were able to honor our partnership.

13:05:01 From Chris Rothbauer : @Laurel, we're sharing a link to our PayPal and telling them to designate in the notes whether it's for pledge or offering in order to encourage a virtual offeratory. I would also send out lots of reminders to your folks because many folks will do it outside the worship.

13:05:02 From Alissa Rhode : Can you address graceful ways to say "no" during this time when the ask is just too much?

13:05:02 From First UU Indiana, PA : Laurel, we've been putting up a slide with instructions for using the church email to send PayPal payments during Offertory music. Our plate from that has been ok so far.

13:05:12 From Leslie Woodward : Teleprompter - I've used cueprompter.com

13:05:17 From Laurie Bilby : We've also put up a slide during the offertory providing a link to our shared plate partner's website, so people can donate directly.

13:05:20 From Tech Host - Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) : Harriet, wow, thanks for sharing that about Linda Hirschhorn. Threshold choirs are such an amazing ministry. I've experienced one at a death. So appreciative that you do this work.

13:05:23 From First UU Indiana, PA : Oh, so what Christ said while I was typing. :)

13:05:32 From First UU Indiana, PA : *Chris Rothbauer

13:05:42 From Lyn Marshall : Christ is in da house!

13:06:02 From Rev Nancy Palmer Jones : LOL!!

13:06:18 From Jay Wolin (he, him, his) : Looking for good text to give programs

13:06:22 From First UU Indiana, PA : Hahaha, a very religious Freudian slip. ;)

13:06:30 From chalicinsamaya@gmail.com : Yes

13:06:30 From Chris Rothbauer : LOL

13:07:13 From Joan McDonald : during our virtual coffee hour we saw a lot of pets and bathrobes

13:07:26 From Laurie Bilby : I want to go to the waffle church!

13:07:29 From Patrick McLaughlin : 12 months of this and it WILL all be the norm. And expected.

13:07:36 From Rev Nancy Palmer Jones : Right--some folx won't "come back" and that's OK if we get really good at this!!

13:07:42 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb to All panelists : Marcia, folx would like you to explain Menti.com again please

13:07:49 From Beryl Aschenberg : Please share your Easter Season resources when you get them done!

13:07:50 From Rev Nancy Palmer Jones : 21st-century church!

13:08:12 From Patrick McLaughlin : We had attendees we had not seen in years. And members who were down in FL who were able to be there. Here. "Here."

13:08:13 From Lyn Marshall : I'm thinking of doing a pancake breakfast zoom before worship this Sunday. (I'm the minister of lifespan faith development. Trying to keep kids connected.)

13:08:14 From amycarolwebb (she/her/they) : Actually ... did the Romper Room thing. A good laugh for us all.

13:08:23 From Beryl Aschenberg : More about children in worship please...

13:08:27 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb : Lyn, I love that idea!

13:08:52 From Seth Carrier-Ladd he/him/his to All panelists : Any chance that you are able to share the audio recording of Linda Hirschhorn singing "In These Hard Times" that you played for us? And/or that we could use that in worship? I'm guessing not, but figured it can't hurt to ask.

13:08:58 From Alissa Rhode : Isn't there something to be said for not getting too good at this? So that people DO want to come back physically when it is considered safe to gather in real space again?

13:09:00 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb : Seth, it's on WorshipWeb!

13:09:03 From Carl Gregg to All panelists : Our folks found chat distracting because it was perpetually flashing the chat bubbles on their screen. (We tried limiting chat to certain parts of service.)

13:09:04 From Susanne Hinson-Rieger : My people are super chatty in chat.

13:09:10 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb : "In These Hard Times"
<https://www.uua.org/worship/words/music/these-hard-times>

13:09:19 From Rev Nancy Palmer Jones : The accessibility is increasing our numbers in worship.

13:09:26 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb : Absolutely you can use it!

13:09:32 From Emilie (she/hers) : Our people were good at chatting through the service, and then, they got "quiet" during the sermon. Our tech guy was watching and said that attendance stayed stable for the sermon. They were very attentive. But it was scary as the preacher to be watching.

13:09:35 From Sky Williams-Tao, they/them/theirs : I'm thinking about this as a chance to think about what is important to do in person. Instead of defaulting to that mode, what is important and precious about that mode?

13:09:36 From Seth Carrier-Ladd he/him/his to All panelists : Ah, I was there, missed it, found it, thank you.

13:09:46 From Lyn Marshall : We had a woman with disabilities who was SO HAPPY to be at "coffee hour" for the first time.

13:09:54 From Alissa Rhode : How to we take care of our worship leaders who have a camera phobia?

13:09:56 From Laurie Bilby : Suggestions for limiting chat to appropriate places in the service? Like maybe not during the sermon or meditation?

13:09:57 From Beryl Aschenberg : Marcia- I'd love to see the previous slide again about ideas for chat

13:10:08 From Lyn Marshall : We will continue to have a Zoom coffee hour after worship when we're back again.

13:10:09 From Corinna Whiteaker-Lewis : this Sunday's RE hour will be show and tell

13:10:17 From Patrick McLaughlin : I think that the future holds some sort of both/and for us. People who will want to be there in person (the body remains real), and want to be able to attend when they can't. Or feel like not. Or are ill(isn).Or got up late.

13:10:21 From Rev. Janet Newton : Elsa

13:10:22 From Jessica she/her : Else

13:10:29 From Jessica she/her : *Elsa

13:10:44 From Katy Carpman : It was a little frightening how quick y'all were with that answer. :)

13:11:00 From Rev Nancy Palmer Jones : Yes to both/and! Always both/and! :-)

13:11:00 From Jessica she/her : hahahaha, 2 1/2 yr old twin girls in this house

13:11:18 From Corinna Whiteaker-Lewis : also told kids to draw a

"surprise" picture while we were talking to show everyone when they were done

13:11:27 From Lyn Marshall : I'm going to an interfaith dance party tonight hosted by the UCC minister in town. Can't wait!

13:11:27 From Darcey Laine : In what modality are we encouraging kids to bring their things? Is it in the newsletter, or a special e-mail, or at the start of worship "go get your stuff"?

13:11:33 From 1U Leadership Development to All panelists : This is Cat, chair of Mystic Grove CUUPs. I had to do Ostara Ritual online last Saturday. I did my worship slides with images from <https://unsplash.com/> and <https://pixabay.com/> in case that helps anyone. They are "free use" images.

13:11:43 From Sarah Witte to All panelists : stuffy ;)

13:11:43 From Patrick McLaughlin : Brilliant, Marcia!

13:11:44 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb : Cat, those are great sites!

13:12:06 From Molly Housh Gordon : Our folks are finding their kids are paying way more attention to worship now that it's on screens LOL!

13:12:11 From Lyn Marshall : Darcey, we used our eBulletin and said it at the beginning of worship.

13:12:37 From uusunshine@gmail.com : Yes - when we had ours on Zoom - the number of children's faces on the screens was heartwarming

13:12:47 From Chris Piatek : Thanks for all the wonderful ideas for expanding our Sunday worship.

13:12:49 From First UU Winnipeg to All panelists : I have to leave for family lunch time but the rest of my folks are staying on. Thank you so much for this!

13:12:54 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb : www.mentimeter.com

13:12:57 From Jessica she/her : agreed, us too, lots of whole families tuning in together

13:13:01 From Beryl Aschenberg : Darcey Laine- In the welcome, I invited people to create chalices by modeling different glasses/bowls, saucers and showed them then gave time for music to gather. Also did that with doodling and pictures on theme last Sunday in welcome

13:13:04 From Tech Host - Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) : www.menti.com

13:13:12 From Lyn Marshall : We had a family let their "too young to light the chalice" son light the chalice along with the minister. They took a picture; he had a group of animals watching too.

13:13:12 From Tech Host - Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) : Code 53 22 04

13:13:19 From Elizabeth Dubuisson : is there a link to the sheet music for "in these hard times" by Linda Hirschhorn? or a pdf you could share?

13:13:32 From Tech Host - Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) : www.mentimeter.com is to set it up, menti.com is for participating.

13:13:40 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb to Elizabeth Dubuisson, All Panelists : I've put it in the chat twice, and will do so again shortly!

13:14:00 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb to Elizabeth Dubuisson, All Panelists : (Can't do so at the moment. Hang on 😊)

13:14:25 From Carl Gregg : Our folks found chat distracting because it was perpetually flashing the chat bubbles on their screen. (We tried limiting chat to certain parts of service.)

13:14:28 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb : I'll be sure to share links once more before we end!

13:15:05 From Jay Wolin (he, him, his) : Thanks for Menti

13:15:53 From uusunshine@gmail.com : It is our feeling that the connections folks have with their churches is what will keep us together as a church – it's not the spaces, it is the connection.

13:16:14 From Karin Griglak : Connection to real people is good. Us huggers are not okay right now.

13:16:22 From Chip Roush (he/they) : Sunday mornings will still be important...AND there will be a hunger for other zoom experiences (dance parties) at other times, IMHO

13:16:32 From Jay Wolin (he, him, his) : It has brought back members who have moved away....Even my family members logged in

13:16:36 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb to Karin Griglak,
All Panelists : Awww  hugs!

13:16:37 From Patrick McLaughlin : This is so much part of my Easter service plans.

13:16:41 From Rev Nancy Palmer Jones : Karin, I hear you! And Chris, amen!

13:16:43 From Beryl Aschenberg : I want to invite people who are leading online worship to take pictures of what they are wearing below the chest and post :) Monkey jammies here!

13:16:45 From Patrick McLaughlin : The church...

13:16:50 From aaronnorris : It may well introduce quite a few people to UUism

13:16:56 From Jay or Lara : I got an email from a congregant saying that he loved being home on his couch so much that he may never want to come sit on our uncomfortable pews again.

13:17:30 From Corinna Whiteaker-Lewis : I have seen an opinion article in the chronicle of higher education that professors should NOT do well at transferring their classes to online courses.

13:17:43 From Jenny Z : I have health issues and can't always get to church. This is an awesome alternative when I can't get to church due to health.

13:17:48 From Patrick McLaughlin : So many who don't come because of all the get ready/travel time... may get hooked.

13:17:55 From amycarolwebb (she/her/they) : Whenever we get to meet again – I'm inclined to make it really and truly "come as you are" – pajamas included.

13:17:58 From Alissa Rhode : For those of us who specialize in and value the live experience and syncing up our heartbeats, I'm holding onto the hope that people will have screen fatigue and want to be in a real space with us.

13:18:03 From Seth Carrier-Ladd he/him/his : This conversation is making me think about once we're able to worship in person on Sundays again about whether it would make sense to offer two services on Sunday, one live in person, and one on Zoom like we're doing now.

13:18:06 From Lyn Marshall : We are thanking the great Spirit of Tech that we started on line worship in September and have many of the kinks worked out. It has included people who have moved away and miss us, people who wanted to attend memorial services but were in another country, participate from HOSPICE, and more.

13:18:32 From Sarah Witte to All panelists : Fragrance is ok at home, but not at church.

13:18:52 From Sarah Witte to All panelists : I love perfume

13:18:56 From Joan McDonald : long time members, who had moved away, participated in the online worship this past Sunday and were so happy to see and be with us virtually.

13:19:08 From Corinna Whiteaker-Lewis : I'm ready to start planning the "reunion" party when we all get back together!

13:19:43 From Carol Wilsey : We have been live streaming at Jefferson Unitarian Church in Colorado for 2.5 years. It's been a beautiful way for our people to worship during bad weather, illness, moves, travel, etc.

13:19:54 From Jessica she/her : this past Sunday we had many folkx who moved away (even as far as France) who were logging in, as well as friends of friends from all over the country

13:20:13 From Alissa Rhode : As a musician, I've seen livestreaming as a threat to our ability to be vulnerable.

13:20:25 From Rev. Janet Newton : Say more, Alissa?

13:20:39 From Julie Olson : Alissa Rhode, can you expand on that thought, please?

13:21:14 From Jo VonRue to All panelists : INDIGO GIRLS!!!

13:21:40 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb to Jo VonRue, All Panelists : ROCK ON!!!

13:21:44 From Lyn Marshall : SO many musicians are putting free content on Facebook! Yo Yo Ma!

13:22:07 From Alissa Rhode : Volunteers in real space and context can be "free to fail" off camera, and in real space it can be a shared authentic experience. On the worldwide web, it's just icky and threatening to "put it all out there." Especially when the music director was not hired (or paid enough) to be an on camera personality.

13:22:14 From 1U Leadership Development to All panelists : Yup. I use keynote and embed my music / video right on my worship slides when I make them in Keynote.

13:22:16 From Andrew Millard : Only an option for Mac and Windows:
<https://support.zoom.us/hc/en-us/articles/201362643-Sharing-Computer-Sound-During-Screen-Sharing>

13:22:19 From amanda she:they : we use our church software Realm for Text to Give

13:22:23 From Melissa Barlett : I did that - I put the music file in my GoogleSlides last week and it worked well

13:22:33 From Beryl Aschenberg : How would you put that right into the presentation Marcia? Via Shared screen?

13:22:34 From Thea Shapiro : that's what we did I and it worked well.

13:22:42 From Corinna Whiteaker-Lewis : when you share screen from within zoom, there is an option to select "audio from computer" which really improves the quality

13:22:45 From Rev Bev Waring : My Music Director and many congregants consciously have chosen live music at the expense of quality.

13:22:45 From Rev. Janet Newton to All panelists : Alyssa, Ooh, yes. I hear that. I am so prayerful that we can all continue to be models of imperfection.

13:22:52 From Mary MacKay to All panelists : what do you mean put audio into your presentation? ???

13:22:56 From uusunshine@gmail.com : Bev waring - ours also 13:23:29 From Lyn Marshall : Here's a thing for a next webinar: how are we going to do memorial services or other ways to hold the community as people start dying and we can't be together to grieve?

13:23:31 From Lyn Cox (she/her) : Because I'm involved in the technical production, I cannot be ministerial in the service if there is also live music.

13:23:33 From Mykal Slack : I'm curious about that, Alissa. Whenever BLUU gathers together, we always livestream because there are inevitably going to be folks who can't be there. And I've heard the same kinds of responses to it folks not in the room as I've heard from folks who are in the room, which is that they've been deeply moved, even to tears, connected to the music, energized by the people who are there.

13:23:35 From Corinna Whiteaker-Lewis : i also embedded my audio files into my slideshow and played them from there

13:24:02 From 1U Leadership Development to All panelists : Right. When you go to "share" settings in zoom make sure you tick the checkboxes at the bottom for audio and video before pushing the corner button to actually share it. That improves the sound quality SO much.

13:24:03 From Lyn Marshall : (that's where my mind went with "sobering.")

13:24:19 From Tech Host - Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) : Lyn, yes. Memorial services and grief support are huge collective needs now and mores going forward. I'm working on resources for these on UUA.org now.

13:24:29 From Lyn Marshall : Thanks Sarah.

13:24:37 From Joan McDonald : yes! you are so right Erika

13:24:49 From Tech Host - Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) : YES Erika. "Spaces of vulnerable connected love."

13:25:10 From Matthew Johnson to All panelists : Longer prayers, shorter sermons....

13:25:14 From Jon Claney to All panelists : YouTube and Facebook live should be better quality than Zoom. They are not synchronous the way Zoom is. If you don't need two way communication in your service, try YouTube or Facebook. People can chat on YouTube, just we aware that they may be viewing what happened a minute ago.

13:25:22 From amycarolwebb (she/her/they) : We're working fast right now to build up a library of materials we can draw on in short notice to build worship as needed

13:25:54 From Jo VonRue : I was so sad to have to give up Wonder-fulll

Life... thinking about trying it again next year!

13:26:08 From Tech Host – Sarah Millspaugh (she/her) : Brene Brown has good guidance on appropriate vulnerability for a leader. See book Dare to Lead.

13:26:17 From Erika Hewitt (she/hers), WorshipWeb to Jo VonRue, All Panelists : here come the links once more...

13:26:37 From Rod Richards : Thank you thank you thank you for this! I must depart for another Zoom room (our lives now), but am so grateful for this connection and the wisdom imparted.
